

Ethics Survey

First name: _____ Last name: _____

Choose the best answer.

1. Why is it important to consider ethics in environmental decision making?
 - a. It isn't
 - b. It brings in people's opinions
 - c. Decisions are based on values
 - d. It's required by law

2. Who should decide how environmental decisions are made?
 - a. The government
 - b. The people who are affected
 - c. It depends on where it is
 - d. The stakeholders in any given situation

3. What is the best description of a stakeholder?
 - a. A person who has a claim, a share or an interest in the situation
 - b. A person who owns land that might be polluted
 - c. Someone who takes a strong position
 - d. A person with power

4. Who needs to be considered in environmental health ethical decisions?
 - a. The government
 - b. The people who are affected
 - c. The stakeholders in any given situation
 - d. It depends on where it is

5. What is environmental justice?
 - a. Being fair to the environment so everyone benefits regardless of their race or gender
 - b. Creating parks everyone can use together that are clean and safe
 - c. Not treating people differently about environmental issues because of race, color, national origin, or income
 - d. Making good environmental decisions to benefit everyone

6. What is sustainable development?
 - a. Building things that will last
 - b. Development that doesn't limit future choices
 - c. Thinking ahead over the long term
 - d. Development that other buildings can be built on later

7. Why aren't environmental decisions as simple as just always choosing to protect the health of people and animals?
 - a. People have different values
 - b. There are competing interests in the situation
 - c. You can't do it all
 - d. It would limit economic progress

8. What are some ethical issues that arise in your life?

9. What process do you use to make ethical decisions?