

Oceans & Human Health NSF REU Policy
Effective May 11, 2005

- The NSF REU award runs concurrent with the academic calendar, beginning the first day of the Fall Semester. Each awardee is given one year to complete the program or up to $4000, whichever comes first.
- Awardees are eligible for two (2) years of NSF REU funding, provided funds are available, the awardee continues as an undergraduate student and if they reapply and are accepted.
- Awardees are responsible for tracking their own award balance, but the Oceans and Human Health Center Administrator will periodically update awardees on an approximate remainder of their balance.
- If a student leaves the OHH NSF REU program prior to utilizing all of their available funds, those funds will remain in the master NSF REU account, rolling over to future awardees.
- Awardees are supervised by their assigned Investigator.