another hint: make use of $M = p/g$

2. pick a planet (any planet) from Wallace&Hobbs Table 4.1 and work through its energy balance. Using the value for the Sun's flux given in Exercise 4.5, show you understand how to deduce what the flux of solar radiation is at the top of your chosen planet's atmosphere. Why is the solar zenith angle neglected in this problem?